

OUR REGULAR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Happeneings at our National Capitol and What we may Expect Will Happen.

Washington, D. C. June (Special)—The week just ended has been marked with stirring events not only in the halls of national legislation, but the President, early in the week demonstrated his ability to gauge the temper of the people relative to railroad rate legislation by accomplishing a diplomatic coup against the railroads which has won him no end of praise from all sections of the county. By tact, fair play and good humor Mr. Taft succeeded in convincing the presidents of eastern railroads that an increase of freight rates before the passage of the railroad rate bill would result in litigation on the part of the government which might seriously cripple the railroads and put a temporary stop to railroad construction and the building of equipment. The representatives of the eastern trunk lines met the President in a spirit of friendliness and after a conference extending over several hours the railroad magnates agreed to withhold the advance until after the railroad rate bill had been finally agreed to by the two houses of Congress and then, after the bill had become a law, to proceed along lines laid down in the law to raise rates, with the right of review resting in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Another event of great moment to the country at large was the final adoption of the conference report on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill without the change of an "i" or the crossing of a "t" from the agreement reached by the Senate and House conferees. Senator Bailey of Texas, Burton of Ohio, Beveridge of Indiana, Stone of Missouri, endeavored with all their eloquence and all their persuasiveness to send the bill back to conference with instructions to insert in the bill certain pet projects of theirs which had either been unfavorably reported upon by the Board of Engineers or which failed, as in Senator Burton's case, to appropriate for the National Waterways Commission of which he is chairman. But neither eloquence or cajoling, sarcasm or invective could change the minds of Senators and the conference report on the Rivers and Harbors bill, carrying nearly fifty-two millions of dollars was agreed to by a vote of 45 to 12, nine democrats and three republicans casting the negative vote. The House adopted the conference report late Friday evening and the bill, which regarded as the fairest and most equitable river and harbor bill ever prepared by the committees having such legislation in hand has gone to the President for signature.

E. Dana Durand, Director of the Census, is now devoting the greater portion of his time to organizing his force so that the public may know at the earliest possible moment the result of the Census of the leading cities of the country.

Director Durand is of the opinion that his force will be in readiness to tabulate the returns of the supervisors of the cities of the country of 25,000 or over so that announcements may be made public during the months of July and August. Full returns from many of the large cities of the country are now in the hands of the Director and the work of tabulation is about to commence. It was said today that the census of Washington would probably be the first to be announced to be followed as rapidly as possible by cities in the order in which return have been reported by the Supervisors. Director Durand intends to issue two bulletins daily to the press of the county carrying announcements of the results of the census takers of the cities. One bulletin will be issued daily at 11 a. m. and a second at 6 o'clock, thus furnishing "copy" for afternoon and morning newspapers. When the work is fairly started these bulletins will fall thick and fast, and even at that it will probably consume the months of July and August to complete the returns from the cities.

The suggestion that the great engineering work on the various reclamation projects, inaugurated and carried forward by Director Newell and his associates, is about to be revolutionized by the removal from office of Director Newell and the appointment in his stead of an officer of the Engineer Corps of the army is not well received by members of Congress representing the States where this work, under civilian management, has already accomplished so much and promises even greater results.

In fact these western Congressmen are very outspoken in expressing their opposition to a change in the supervision of the Reclamation work. They doubt very much the wisdom of placing the construction work of the thirty odd reclamation projects under the control of an Army Engineer. If there should be a change, owing to the alleged difference between Director Newell and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, these western men contend the work should be prosecuted under the direction of an engineer appointed from civil life and not under the supervision of an army engineer.

SOME VERY OLD DOCUMENTS

N. R. Farris & Co., Are In Possession of Some of The Oldest Documents in Kentucky

On our visit to Salem last week we were shown some legal documents 123 years old and yet in a high state of preservation. Among them was the signature of the first Governor of Kentucky, one, a suit on a note in 1787, the note was for $14.00 and the cost figured up $17.00. Another was a land grant for one of the first farms in Livingston county now the finest 800 acre farm in the county.

All of these old records are on the very highest quality of paper and though written with a quill, display penmanship far above the average of today. While the writing is plain and beautiful, it is not so easily read by those unaccustomed to it on account of the old way of making s and f.

Mr. Farris thinks a great deal of these old relics that he has gathered up, keeping them with his other valuables, in the Salem Bank.

BEST WISHES FOLLOW WALTER WALKER.

Beautiful Tribute Pair Him by the Editor of the Sentinel, Where he Served so Long.

Old Marion and Kentucky friends of Walter Walker, formerly manager of the Crittenden Press, which his father, R. C. Walker, established and owned for many years, will read with interest the following editorial farewell, written by the owner of the Grand Junction Daily Sentinel, of Grand Junction, Colo., of which Mr. Walker was city editor for six years.

Best Wishes Follow Him

Walter, Walker, who for six years past has been the city and news editor of the Daily Sentinel, severed his connection with this paper yesterday. His going engenders a feeling of deep regret in all who have been connected with him in the work of producing The Sentinel.

No more loyal, conscientious or painstaking employee has ever worked on the staff of this paper. He was tireless in the performance of his duties, ever alert for news, and presented same to the readers of this paper in such an attractive manner that it won not only credit for the paper, but credit for himself individually.

He goes to a new field of endeavor in newspaper work, undertaking the publication of a paper which he has but recently purchased, and the good will of every man in the Sentinel office goes with him to his new home.

Unquestionably Mr. Walker will give to the people of Ouray a newspaper that will attract attention all over the state. He has a fine sense of the necessities demanded for a weekly newspaper publication, and, if untiring labor will consummate that object, Mr. Walker will give that to its production.

So few times do those engaged in newspaper work receive the credit due them for their work for the public that we feel it is timely to say that Mr. Walker worked at all times to make the city a greater Grand Junction. His mind had the scope and he was endowed with the ability as a writer to most attractively present the essential things that needed publicity, to attract attention to this valley.

The Sentinel will miss Mr. Walker greatly, but will hope to give the Grand Junction readers the same sprightly, direct and up-to-date newspaper that it always has been during the comparatively long term of its existence in this city, always having been a factor in the making of this great new empire in western Colorado.

As has been said before, The Sentinel is an institution of this city, having earned that distinction through the many years of its labors for it; so that its mission in the upbuilding of Grand Junction and the renowned Grand valley will be as ever in the past before it constantly. Its ambition will be to endeavor to secure a successor for Mr. Walker who at least, will be as loyal to the upbuilding of the city as he was, even though he may not fill the place filled so ably for such a term of years and which Mr. Walker now vacates to the keen regret of The Sentinel's publisher and a great mass of warm friends.

All the newspaper men of Grand Junction and Mesa county and a number from other cities gave Mr. Walker an elegant "farewell banquet" a few days before he left with Mrs. Walker for the new home.

TO OUR READERS!

By special arrangement we offer you a great opportunity to read

"Chantecler"

EDMOND ROSTAND'S wonderful "Chantecler" is the dramatic sensation of the world. In it Rostand proves himself to be one of the greatest dramatists of all times. "Chantecler" is not only the greatest play of the century,—it is the one great play of the last hundred years. It is an exquisite story, palpitating with human sympathy and interest. It warms the blood—stirs the emotions—arouses every commendable sentiment. "Chantecler" sparkles with wit—counsels with wise philosophy—entertains with fascinating idiom—while the tones of the hour bell of today, and today's problems, are heard through the medium of "Chantecler's" deliciously up-to-date slang. No language contains sufficient superlatives to describe it. Only reading and study will enable you to appreciate it. It has aroused all France—London has gone mad over it.

The Only English Translation

Rostand has chosen HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE as the medium through which to present "Chantecler" to the English-reading world. The publication will be in four instalments, one act to each instalment, beginning in the June number. The translator is the same who helped to make "Cyrano de Bergerac" so fascinating to American booklovers.

We have made special arrangements with the publishers of HAMPTON'S by which our readers may get "Chantecler" and the many other fine features published in HAMPTON'S in connection with our own paper, practically without cost. Read our offer below.

OTHER EXPENSIVE FEATURES

HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE every month contains the most costly, most important, and most interesting contents ever put between the covers of a general magazine. "Peary's Own Story" of the discovery of the North Pole, a $50,000 feature, is now in its most interesting stage, giving the positive "proofs" that Commander Peary and no other man discovered the North Pole. "The True History of the Southern Pacific Railroad" by Charles Edward Russell is one of the greatest magazine serials ever published. Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr's articles on the "Power of the Women's Clubs" are without an equal in their appeal to women everywhere. Fiction contributors include the foremost story-tellers of the world; Arthur Stringer has a new series called "The Adventures of an Insomniac;" James B. Connolly describes in several stories his Trip Around the World with the American Fleet; Frederick Palmer is contributing a series of airship stories of which Danbury Rodd is the central character. The only new idea in detective fiction since Sherlock Holmes is provided in the second series of stories about Luther Trant, the psychological detective, written by Edwin Balmer and William G. MacHarg. Other Short Stories are by such favorites as O. Henry, Gouverneur Morris, Charles Belmont Davis, Rupert Hughes, Josephine Daskam Bacon, Harris Merton Lyon and many others.

Special Offer to Readers of This Paper

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Diseases.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin diseases, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Haynes & Taylor will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin diseases and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.
